                          *Stories of Home**

*The Lincoln Arts Council received funding from the National Endowment for the Arts, as well as from private donors for this project. A panel of jurors, including MacArthur Fellow Pepón Osorio, selected a dozen professional artists from a pool of applicants. Each selected artist received a commission contract to create an original work reflecting a family's story. I was paired with a large family relocated from Sudan. Teams had a nine-month creative period and a nine-month exhibition period. The works traveled through the community from June 2006 through February 2007. As the works traveled, the artists gave a series of lectures about the project and its impact. The pieces were shown - both together and separately - in homes, schools, businesses and community centers.
